ABRAM CHARLES HUBERT (HARRY)	28.03.1922 RAF	11.06.1944 22	Flight Sergeant 1312711 228 Squadron RAF Volunteer Reserve	Grave Unknown Runnymede Memorial Panel 215	b. Emsworth. s/o James & Mabel Gertrude Abram. 18 Gifford Road. h/o Barbara Joyce Abram. They were married in Chichester in 1941 and lived with Charles' Uncle & Aunt, Archibald and Edith Wilkins in Gifford Road, Bosham. Charles & Barbara had 1 son, Clifford James b. 07.09.1943 & christened in Holy Trinity Church, Bosham 03.10.1943. Abram was on board Sunderland ML762 with 10 other crewmen that took off for an anti U-Boat patrol over the Bay of Biscay at 20.10 on 10.06.1944, due back 09.10am on 11.06.1944 but did not return. A German broadcast next day claimed that two Sunderlands had been shot down over the Bay. AATD: Gifford Road, Bosham. His wife Barbara Abram still lives in Bosham.
ANDREWS GUY JAMES	11.11.1902 RN	17.12.1940 38 (14.12.1940 in Book of Remembrance)	Acting Yeoman of Signals P/J89763 HMS 'Acheron' Royal Navy	Grave Unknown Portsmouth Naval Memorial Panel 40 Column 2	b. Portsmouth. s/o of James Richard & Jennie Andrews. h/o Amelia Margaret Andrews. HMS 'Acheron' was a Class A Destroyer. She had sustained bomb damage while having a refit in Portsmouth dockyard in August and was subsequently mined off the Isle of Wight while running trials after the refit. The trial was being conducted at night, in heavy seas and with a strong north-east wind in complete darkness. She was conducting steaming exercises over a measured mile, 8 nautical miles (15 km) west-south-west of St. Catherine's Point. On one of the passes, she struck a mine. The explosion caused major structural damage forward and her own speed drove her under. She sank within four minutes, drowning 196 crewmen and yard workers, who were on board for the trials. There were only 19 survivors. The mine was probably one laid by the Luftwaffe in no definite pattern along the Channel coast. AATD: 4 South Terrace, Bosham.

APPLETON CHARLES HENRY	29.11.1906 RAF	12.08.1944 38	Group Captain 24139 CBE DSO DFC 247 Squadron Royal Air Force	Killed in action, Falaise. Bannerville-la-Campagne War Cemetery, Calvados IV. C. 14	b. Ireland. s/o Capt. Henry M. & Maud A Appleton. h/o Yvonne Marjarie Appleton of Marandellas, S. Rhodesia. Appleton was on Typhoon IB MN928 of 247 Sqd (also listed as 124 Wing/127 Sq?) hit by flak near Flers and crashed Le Mensil Guerard, Calvados, France. First buried Le Mesnil Guerard, reinterred Banneville la Campagne War Cemetery, Calvados. AATD: Bosham.
BLATCHFORD STANLEY G.	1913 RN/FAA	17.06.1941 27	Petty Officer FX76302 HMS 'Malabar' Royal Navy	Bermuda Royal Naval Cemetery Grave 385 (Book of Remembrance Ireland Island Cemetery, Bermuda)	b. Regents Park, London. s/o Thomas George & Mary Ellen Blatchford of 6 South Villas, Bosham. It is not known yet how Blatchford died. HMS 'Malabar' was a shore base on the Island of Bermuda. The name HMS Malabar causes considerable confusion in relation to the Bermuda naval base. At least one vessel attached to the HM Dockyard, and three separate shore establishments have used the name. The shore establishments included one at the Commissioner's House, at the north of the Keep, and, later, the Royal Naval Air Station on Boaz Island that operated during the Second World War. Both of these were establishments within the larger active naval base.
BROOKS BRIAN PHILIP HAWKESWOOD	01.01.1918 RN/FAA	29.05.1941 23	Lieutenant (no Service Number in CWGC details) Fleet Air Arm HMS 'Sheffield' Royal Navy	Grave Unknown Lee-on-Solent Memorial Bay 1 Panel 6	b. Edinburgh. In February 1941 HMS Sheffield was deployed in the Mediterranean, participating in the shelling of Genoa, operations against Vichy convoys and supporting air reinforcements to Malta. In May, Sheffield took part in the sinking of the German battleship Bismarck, narrowly escaping a friendly fire torpedo attack by HMS Ark Royal's Fairey Swordfish; 11 TSRs dropped (despite having been warned Sheffield was in the vicinity), and only defective Duplex exploders and fine ship handling saved her from disaster. The reaction of Sheffield's crew "has not made its way into the official records". Brooks died during this attack and is listed as 'Lost at sea'. AATD: 'Spinneys', Bosham.

BURNETT ALBERT GEORGE	23.02.1901 RN	07.01.1944 43	Chief Stoker P/K63312 HMS 'Tweed' Royal Navy	Grave Unknown Portsmouth Naval Memorial Panel 85 Column 1	b. Cosham. s/o Henry & Kate Burnett. Father Market Gardner. Childhood in Nutbourne. w/of Ethel Marion, one son Kenneth. Played football for Nutbourne. George Bell of Southbourne knew Burnett's family in Nutbourne. HMS Tweed of the 5th Escort Group was hit on the starboard side by a gnat from U-305 & sank within two minutes southwest of Ireland. 2 Officers & 81 ratings were lost. AATD: 10 Portland Terrace, Bosham.
CHATFIELD JOHN ANTHONY CHARLES	04.07.1922 Army	08.07.1944 22	Lieutenant 224011 245 Battalion 62 Anti-Tank Regiment Royal Artillery	Died of wounds Normandy Ryes War Cemetery, Bazenville, Normandy IV.D.7	b. Sevenoaks. s/o of Revd. Albert Leonard Chatfield MC & Gertrude Emily Louisa Chatfield (née Pressnell) of Bosham Vicarage (m. Tonbridge, Kent 1919). Chatfield was killed while serving with the RA in France during the Allied offensive in north-western Europe which began with the Normandy landings in 1944. Ryes War Cemetery is not far inland from the beaches at Arromanches, where the 50th Division landed on 6 June. Chatfield was mentioned in despatches by General Montgomery for distinguished service. AATD: Bosham Vicarage, which at the time was Critchfield House, Bosham Lane, privately owned by The Revd. Chatfield, because the Vicarage in Walton Lane had been requisitioned during the war. The present Vicarage was bought in 1949.
CLAPHAM NORMAN RICHARD	27.04.1924 Army	06.11.1943 19	Guardsman 2665561 3rd Battalion Coldstream Guards	Minturno War Cemetery, Italy IV.F.20	b. Worthing. s/o John Charles & Daisy Dowling Clapham of Williams Road, Bosham. On 3 September 1943 the Allies invaded the Italian mainland, the invasion coinciding with an armistice made with the Italians who then re-entered the war on the Allied side. Progress through southern Italy was rapid despite stiff resistance, but by the end of October, the Allies were facing the German winter defensive position known as the Gustav Line, which stretched from the river Garigliano in the west to the Sangro in the east. Initial attempts to breach the western end of the line were unsuccessful and it was during this time that Clapham was killed. It was not until 17 January 1944 that the Garigliano was crossed, and Minturno taken two days later. AATD: 28 Williams Rd.

Bosham. s/o Cresswell & Elizabeth Combes of Church Cottages, Bosham. g/s of George & Annie Combes of Bosham. Related to Ted Combes who died in the 1st WW. Combes was killed when his 460 squadron RAAF Lancaster EE138 was on a bombing raid to Berlin and was shot down over Stadil (Ringkobing) Denmark on the 4th September 1943 on the return flight. EE138 was shot by a nightfighter and went down in flames. Upon impact it exploded which completely destroyed the aircraft. The crew were RAF & RAAF (Australian Airforce). After a visit of a parent of one of the crew to Stadil, the locals decided to set up a memorial for the 8 airmen who died. The memorial was unveiled on 5th May 1950. On 4th September 2008 a Commemoration Service was held and another memorial was unveiled also in Stadil. (ref. Anne Storm) AATD: Church Cottages, Bosham.

	RN	22	HM Submarine 'Rainbow' Royal Navy	Memorial Panel 37 Column 3	HMS Rainbow left Alexandria on September 23 rd 1940 on patrol duty and was never heard of again. It is believed that she was accidentally rammed and sunk by the Italian merchant ship near Bari, Italy on October 4 th . On that day an Italian convoy of freighters was sailing from Durazzo to Bari when one of the freighters, Antoinette Costa, struck an underwater object. Immediately after this collision a heavy underwater explosion took place shaking the freighter. Only locating the wreck will solve this mystery for sure. The above is the best explanation for her disappearance. AATD: 7 Park View, Bosham.

It seems that before the evacuation was complete he was reported wounded in the thigh and later missing, presumed killed. In spite of quite extensive investigations by family and friends the exact details of his death have never been ascertained. Robinson's daughter Diana Heywood lives near Cirencester and his nieces, Jenny Bain and her sister Sheilagh Bidgman,(d.Feb. 2009) have long been residents of Bosham. ATD: 74 Bishopsthorpe Rd., York.
ROBINSON FRANCIS ANTHONY GOSS (Tony) (Later also known as Goss- Robinson)	16.07.1914 RA/Glider Regiment	06.05.1942 27	Major P/55888 Royal Artillery & 1 st Glider Pilot Regiment Honours: MC Previously in York & Lancaster Regiment and then various Light Anti-Aircraft Regiments.	Right hand column Oxford Crematorium	b. Southsea. s/o Charles Henry James Robinson and Hilda Marguerite Webber Robinson (née Goss.) Younger brother of Charles Robinson, above. He was involved in the evacuation of the British Expeditionary Force from France in May 1940. He mounted a 12 pounder gun on a trawler and steamed up and down the coast at Calais, drawing fire. Then under cover of darkness he managed to get about 100 men safely back to Dover. He was instructed not to return to France but he had promised to rescue his men so he commandeered two armoured boats and returned. He managed to recover another 58 men and once again returned safely to Dover, although they ran aground in the harbour and had to swim ashore. After an Enquiry was held into the circumstances of his disobeying orders he was promoted to Major and awarded the Military Cross. In 1942 he joined the 1 st Glider Regiment and applied for Glider Pilot training. He was killed in a glider accident during training at RAF Weston-on-the Green, Bicester, unconnected with enemy action. Two of Robinson's nieces, Jenny Bain and her sister Sheilagh Bridgman,(d.Feb. 2009) have long been residents of Bosham. Another niece, Diana Heywood, daughter of Charles Robinson above, lives near Cirencester. AATD: Tiled Cottage, Bosham.
