SAMARA'S AID APPEAL.

This initiative started in August 2014 with an email to the mothers in Samara Levy's son's year group, appealing for winter clothes and shoes to send to the people displaced in Iraq who lost everything when IS took their towns, cities and villages. It has quickly grown into a larger project which provides medical and humanitarian aid, currently focused on Syria. The aid sent is taken to people in need, and teams serve everyone in need regardless of their faith, political views, gender, ethnicity or other defining categories. Their aim is to demonstrate the unconditional love of God to people who are in desperate need, and everything they send is given freely to those in need with no expectations, with no strings attached.
