COPY DEADLINE FOR BOSHAM LIFE: THE 11th OF EACH MONTH

Canon Martin Lane, Vicar of Bosham, writes...

Dear Friends,

This month we begin the season of Lent. No doubt our usual liturgical observances will be curtailed due to the pandemic, yet this should not stop us pausing for a moment to embrace the opportunities which Lent affords us.

There is something comforting about the liturgical calendar within the Church year. As we bid farewell to Christmas and Epiphany, we now embrace Lent and as we do so, we look forward to the joy and hope which Easter brings. This year will be particularly poignant, as we pray that there is some good news in the worldwide fight against this pandemic which continues to plague us.

The liturgical cycle provides a natural momentum for us; opportunities to engage with the various aspects of the good news of Jesus, which we in turn are called to proclaim and live out day by day. It is a never ending cycle of opportunity and discovery, if we choose to embrace it. I hope that even in these strange times we take the opportunity to do so.

It was St Gregory of Nyssa who said, in the fourth century, “Sin happens whenever we refuse to keep growing”. I can only speak for myself, but I recognise those moments when embracing the opportunity to change, or the God-given opportunity to grow, all seem too much. It is easier to put one’s head in the sand. Invariably, in such moments, I ask myself the question—has God stopped speaking to me? When in fact I ought to ask the more pertinent question: have I stopped listening to Him?

Lent provides us with a time to listen. I can remember as a young child—who clearly had too much to say—the teacher saying, “Just listen and you might learn something...”

When we read the bible and as we encounter the various characters within it, we soon discover that their willingness not only to listen, but also to change and grow, has provided the very foundation on which our faith has been established.

I pray that in whichever way we can, we will embrace the God-given opportunity of Lent and that we might listen, and in so doing, grow.

Martin

LENT COURSE—'CRACKED WIDE OPEN'

The Lent Course will include flexible content for use in groups, whether real or virtual, or by individuals and family units in the home. The course includes the following:

- A background note on the elements of the course and some of the assumptions that have guided its production;
- Video of Bishop Martin giving a reflection for use in church on Sundays;
- Five filmed conversations between Bishop Ruth and Bishop Will to be used in group sessions;
- Background notes for each of the five weeks including questions for discussion;
- Notes suggesting sub themes for each week and how these relate to mission unity and discipleship;
- Bible study notes for each of the Sunday gospels;
- Prayer diary for each week;
- An outline order of service that could be used with the filmed conversation for a larger group meeting in church.

In COVID times we are used to having things cut to a minimum. This course invites reflection on what minimum requirements need to be present for a diocese to participate in the mission of God. In the light of that reflection it asks for prayer about how our unity with God and in the Body of Christ might grow and deepen so that the world might believe (John 17:21).

Details of the Lent Course are available on the diocesan website: www.chichester.anglican.org/lent-2021, which offers a downloadable taster leaflet with an outline of this five week course.

Meeting Point

BISCuit

We are BISCuit, the Bosham Isolation Support Community. We are a voluntary community group supporting residents of Bosham and the local community impacted by this period of social distancing and isolation. We are on the COVID-19 Mutual Aid register and are working with local organisations including The Bosham Association, Bosham Monday Club, Bosham Village Friends, Parish Council, Holy Trinity Church and the Gathering Church Group.

Self-isolation may be a very anxious and lonely time. To tackle this we have a group of volunteers at the end of a call/text and email who can:

- Collect and drop shopping/supplies to your doorstep;
- Collect prescriptions;
- Take your dog for a walk;
- Be on the end of a phone for a chat.

We have a community fund to help us with the work we do. This fund provides our residents with emergency and temporary/financial assistance for shopping/prescriptions via BISCuit, and other potentially critical expenses they cannot afford. If you have found yourself struggling financially, and you are in need of our services, please call or email to see if the fund may be used to support you.

Get in touch:

Volunteers will respect the importance of self isolation. They will stay a safe distance at all times, if coming to your home to drop supplies, and will adhere to all hygiene guidance/protocols.

Are you self-isolating in the Bosham area? We can help and support you. (01243) 200 462

COVID VACCINATION APPOINTMENTS

The volunteers at Bosham Village Friends remain ready to take those who cannot get about on their own to the doctor, or to other appointments. So, they are available to take anyone, who needs help, to their Covid vaccination appointment. If we have two or three at a similar time, we can use the Bosham Minibus. Just call ☎ 07981 794723 as soon as you know your appointment, and we will sort you out!

Eat in to Help Out

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL HOSTELRIES AND TAKEAWAYS

Before Christmas, we were all being encouraged to 'shop local' to support independent businesses—and now, with another lockdown upon us, is the time to also think about supporting local hostelries by treating ourselves to the wonderful food on their takeaway menus.

In Bosham, there is an interesting variety of outlets that are both precious and important to the community (see below). Every household in the village is encouraged to consider ordering one takeaway meal each week to help keep the local pubs, hotel, restaurants and takeaways alive through the dark days of this pandemic.

These are tough times for everyone, and understandably not every household will be able to help in this way—but if as many as possible choose one meal each week or even every now and then—it will make a difference, and may prevent us from losing the venues that we all look forward to frequenting, once eating out is permitted again!

What could be nicer than a delicious freshly prepared meal, often delivered to your door, without the hassle of having to cook it yourself. Go on—treat yourselves, and help your local community by doing so!

Bosham Monday Club

While 2021 hasn't started that well, with another lockdown, there is light at the end of the tunnel, with the promise of the vaccine. So let's all try to stay positive and look forward to returning to our social meetings hopefully in the Spring!

Before Christmas, Amanda kept our spirits up by providing wonderful hampers (as reported last month). The children from Funtington Primary School also made and gave lovely Christmas cards to some of our members. These simple gestures of goodwill mean so much and really help people to stay strong in these difficult times. Thank you, Amanda and the children!

Instead of delivering cake and tea this month, Jan, Jenny and Wendy either posted or delivered encouraging Happy New Year messages, a quiz and a chocolate treat! Hopefully they'll be out and about delivering again next month.

For more information on what goes on at the Bosham Monday Club, or if you want to join a list of new members, for when we do start back, call me on 07710 483718.

Bosham, Chidham and District Horticultural Society

Well, just as we thought we were getting there, a new variant pops up, and we are back in lockdown again! All very depressing but understandable. As a result of the lockdown we have had to cancel the February Meeting, as it is before the lockdown review date. I will of course let you know about the March and April meetings nearer the time. At the moment, in order to cheer ourselves up, I think we should look forward to the Plant Sale in May. We can hold this outside, weather permitting, so it is quite hopeful. So don't forget the sale, when you start planting your spring seeds, vegetable, shrubs and flowers etc. The Sarcococca, that I bought from the plant sale a few years back, is now about to flower with that beautiful scent. Thanks to Pat Ingham for that one! I think that one of the joys of gardening is going round the garden and remembering who gave you the plants, and watching them grow to full splendour! Some of mine have come from gardeners now gardening in paradise! My Daphne odora is also almost flowering. I got that in Lymington Market in the New Forest. There is an excellent plant stall at the Saturday Market and the prices are ridiculously low. When the lockdown is finally over (?) it would make a nice trip out, with plenty of places to have lunch and a nice walk.

As I walk each morning it is good to see the wild daffodils and snowdrops appearing in the hedgerows—a very welcome sight!

Thank goodness for our gardens, the thought of Spring is the one certain thing we can cling on to at present!!

Rozie Bradley

Bosham Open Gardens 2021

PROUD OF YOUR LOCKDOWN GARDEN? NEED SOMETHING TO LOOK FORWARD TO?

We are hoping to run our very successful Open Gardens again this year, Covid rules allowing! Several stalwarts have already indicated that they will be happy to take part, so if you have a garden that you want to show, or if you would like to take part as a helper, please save the date—Sunday June 6th.

This year's charity will be Sage House, the dementia hub in Tangmere which provides day care for dementia sufferers and respite for their carers.

➤ Get Active

Challenge yourself and raise vital funds for St Wilfrid's at the same time! Choose the challenge that is right for you from Couch to 5K to UK Running virtual events. Why not use your daily exercise or training to get focused and fundraise for your local Hospice?

➤ Shop Sustainably

Be kind to your wallet and your environment, while supporting your local charity. We all want to reduce our environmental impact; 339,000 tonnes of textiles alone were kept out of landfill in 2018/19, as a result of charity retail in the UK. While our charity shops are closed during lockdown, you can choose to shop online through our ebay shop and have your books, puzzles, treats and treasures delivered to your door, knowing that every purchase helps a patient.

➤ Live Well

We all want to breathe a breath of fresh air after 2020, and for some that is harder than others. Our physio and occupational health team have been busy behind the scenes creating a series of podcasts and videos to help people who suffer from breathlessness. These easy-to-follow guides from our experts are perfect if you, or one of your friends or family, have problems with breathlessness or have symptoms of long Covid. If you know someone who could benefit, then please forward the Breathe Well, Live Well series link to them, and let us know any feedback.

➤ A local hero

On a rainy Friday just before Christmas, retired army veteran Major Mick Stanley completed his epic 100-mile rowing challenge aboard his home-made boat, 'the Titanic'. Major Mick decided to undertake this challenge in aid of St Wilfrid's and has now raised over £37,000, and has even auctioned the boat itself. Thank you so much to everyone who has donated on Major Mick's Just Giving page, and added Gift Aid which is an additional £7,000 on top! Passers-by on Chichester canal and the nation's press alike have been interested in Major Mick's story. We think you are 'oar-some' Major Mick, and thank you so much for your efforts during this inspirational challenge! See what Major Mick had to say and behind the scenes photos of the challenge.

QUICK QUIZ

(Answer on page 22)

Where is the (terrestrial) TV transmitter serving Bosham?

Joe Biden and Bosham

Last month (Bosham Life, January 2021, page 13) we suggested that some of the ancestors of Joe Biden, the new President of USA, lived in this area. Thanks to Eddie Greenfield and Ian Burrell for some of this information. It is a 'work in progress', and may need some correction in the future, but this is what we have found so far:

The person of greatest interest from Bosham's point of view is Ann Silverlock. Her parents, Joseph Silverlock and Sarah Horn, were married in Bosham Church on December 29th 1761. Ann was the third of their eight children. As with everyone else on this family tree, Ann's actual date of birth is not known, but she was christened in Bosham Church on March 7th 1766. Ann married a James Biden from Pagham, in Westbourne Church, on May 16th 1785. The remaining christening and marriage records in the tree are all from Westbourne or further afield.

Ann and James' son William emigrated to America some time around 1800. Some time later, William's son, Joseph, was visited from England by his cousin Henry Biden, who left a written account of his visit, in which he mentions Joseph's father, William Biden.

A further four generations take us from Joseph Biden to Joseph Robinette Biden Jr, 46th President of the United States, who has his family roots firmly in Sussex!

From Our Member of Parliament

A new lockdown is not how any of us wanted to kick off 2021 and I know how frustrating and disruptive these measures can be on all our lives. Unlike the first lockdown back in March, we are in a much better place, as the roll-out of the Pfizer and Oxford AstraZeneca vaccines is underway, and the recently approved Moderna vaccine to come in the Spring. In the meantime, the latest science shows the new variant spreads significantly more quickly, and that cases have been rising exponentially, including in West Sussex. This means that it is essential for the Government to bring in measures to protect the NHS from becoming overwhelmed and to save lives. The central message is that you should stay at home wherever possible. Exceptions are made for travel to work that cannot be done from home, to go shopping for essentials, for exercise once per day, or to seek medical assistance. You can find the full guidance on the Government's website at: www.gov.uk/coronavirus.

Over the Christmas break, MPs were recalled to vote on the Brexit deal, delivering on the referendum result and gaining political and economic independence. It is a historic deal—for the first time in the EU's history they have accepted a zero-tariff and zero-quota trade agreement. The deal also secures judicial independence and recognises our sovereignty over UK fishing grounds. We have also agreed to maintain close cooperation on issues around security, international law enforcement, science and research, and much more, whilst enabling us to maintain our high environmental standards and ambitions to tackle climate change. All in all, the deal ensures the UK and the EU will continue to enjoy a close and positive relationship, as firm friends and natural allies.

Locally, many of us are concerned about wastewater and sewerage infrastructure in our area, particularly as the wetter weather has set in, and our drains have to deal with more than usual. I've recently held meetings with OFWAT (Office of Water Services), who regulate the water industry, and the Chief Executive of Southern Water, Ian McAulay, to highlight the concerns of residents and to press the case for closer cooperation between the District Council and water companies. As a part of our agenda to address climate change and protect the environment, it is vital that our water networks can accommodate our increasing population whilst also protecting our beautiful landscape and coastline. Soon I will also be meeting with Rebecca Pow MP, the Minister for the Environment, to discuss what can be done to improve water services at the national level. I will be sure to keep you updated.

Gillian Keegan, MP

JANUARY 2021

IAN CURRIE is a Fellow of the Royal Meteorological Society, broadcaster, author, columnist and editor of Weather Eye, and he regularly broadcasts on BBC Radio Sussex, where he gives forecasts to gardeners and growers. He was the Zoom speaker for BOSHAM WI at their first meeting of 2021. Ian has witnessed a great variety of weather over 60 years of constantly changing seasons.

In the 17th century the mercury barometer (photograph on right) was invented by an Italian, Evangelista Torricelli. This showed the atmospheric pressure and helped to forecast the weather to be expected. The readings were obtained by the mercury being forced up the tube as the pressure increased.

In the 1850s the 'Stevenson's Screen' was introduced (photograph on left). This shelters meteorological instruments—such as thermometers, which record humidity and air temperature—from rain, snow and high winds.

Ian produced some excellent slides of different types of weather, showing how to spot imminent rain, snow or storms by the formation of nimbus stratus, lightning, sunsets and rainbows. He interspersed his talk with some old adages such as 'If its mild up to Candlemas Day (February 2nd) saddle up your horse and buy some hay'. 1921 was a remarkable year, being the driest on record, but it snowed in April that year. 'April has the face of a monk and the claws of a cat'.

People who had primary industry jobs—on the land farming, in the forests, quarries, working with animals or at sea, were ever aware of the changing conditions of the sky. We all know 'Red sky in morning, shepherds warning; red sky at night, shepherds delight' or 'A yellow sky to end the day means poorer weather is on the way'.

Weather can be judged by seaweed. If you care to have some hanging in your porch and it stays soft and bendy—it's going to be wet. If it becomes dry and cracks—it's going to be hot. Woolly fleeces (clouds) are a good sign and super-cooled droplets of water become rime.

2020 broke three national records: average temperatures reached over 21°, we had the warmest February day on record, and dust was brought over from the Sahara, creating an orange sky.

If you can see the setting sun, that is a good sign, as 90% of our weather comes in from the West South West.

In thundery weather it is wise to avoid standing under trees, but especially avoid the oak and ash, as they are 60 times more likely to be struck. 'Avoid the oak, it draws the stroke. Avoid an ash it counts the flash'.

Lightning can strike with up to a million volts and reach up to 30,000 degrees in temperature.

Continued ⇒

So many natural things in our world are indicators of the weather, like the honeybee, which is very responsive, and the little scarlet pimpernel, which will open when the sun is out and close when rain is due. Ian mentioned that seeing cows lying down in a field does not indicate that rain is on the way!

Cirrus clouds cause 'a halo around the sun and moon, and it means it's going to rain quite soon'.

By looking at the sky and the sea you can tell what weather is coming especially as we are close to the South Downs. There is always something happening and changing. So, when you're next out on a walk, look all around you. Appreciate our wonderful environment and look after it.

Ian finished his talk with a famous old saying:

*'Whether the weather be dry or whether the weather be not
Whether the weather be cold or whether the weather be hot
We'll weather the weather, whatever the weather
WHETHER WE LIKE IT OR NOT!'*

The next Zoom meeting for Bosham WI will be on WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 3rd at 2:30pm and the speaker will be Sarah Slater, her talk being entitled 'Ghosts of Hampton Court Palace'. If you would like more information, please contact Rosemary Keating on ☎839953.

Jennifer Fidler

Serendipity

This evening, with Miranda—who is 4½ and whose favourite toy is a medical bag—we watched 'Zog and the Flying Doctors', in which a hidebound king tries to stop his princess niece from fulfilling her dream to become a doctor, by imprisoning her and demanding that she fulfil her role by wearing 'a pretty, frilly dress'.

After we'd sat through it the second time I thought this would be a great opportunity to talk about the irrelevance of gender roles and the absurdity of people preventing others from fulfilling their dreams.

"Don't you think it's crazy that the king would stop her from being a doctor, just because she's a girl?"

"Yes Daddy. It's so silly. People should be able to be whatever they want to be!"

"Exactly," I smiled with pride. "So, what do you want to be?"
"A princess!"

The Bosham Association

BUILDING BETTER IN BOSHAM

BUILDING BETTER in Bosham is not about bricks and mortar but about building a better environment! The Bosham Association has two new recent projects to 'green' our village. The first is TREE PLANTING. Working with local landowners, we have planted 68 disease-resistant elms, replacing the many elm trees that once adorned our village, before succumbing to Dutch Elm Disease. There are also plans afoot to create a woodland on land close to the A259 near Chequers Lane, This is in addition to the 2,000 trees that were planted last year by the landowner of Willowfield Farm on Ratham Lane. The trees are tiny, and will need nurturing, and some of us will not get to see them in their maturity, but they will be there for future generations.

The second project is RE-WILDING. Bosham Association is supporting a group of residents in Critchfield Road who are drawing up plans to re-wild the grass verges there, by taking up the grass and replacing it with a variety of wildflowers and shrubs to provide food and habitat for bees and other pollinators. We are hoping that this kind of scheme will be embraced by residents of other roads in Bosham, and the Bosham Association will be there to help.

To find out more about the Bosham Association, or to join, go to our website: boshamassociation.org.uk.

From the Church Warden...

You may know Laura Ritchie by her cello or maybe you have seen her running in the village, but did you know she also is a Chartered Psychologist and has just written a book?

'Yes I Can: Learn to use the power of self-efficacy' is a practical and personal book founded on solid psychological concepts that address the topics of perception, perspective, self-efficacy beliefs, metacognition, self-regulation and agency, by presenting these psychological concepts through a uniquely inviting and approachable, storytelling voice. Laura interweaves psychological theory with personal stories, told in a memoir-like way, drawing upon experience from her musical, academic, and personal life. The important aspect of these stories is not that they are about 'Laura', but act as a bridge between research and everyday practice, and serve as a lens for the reader to look both at and into their own experience.

This book will transform your understanding and perception of 'can' to become a fundamental part of life. More than a mindset, it is about understanding the processes underlying self-beliefs, which allow you to move from wherever you are through the vision of possibility to achieve your goals. Strategic thinking, instead of grit or willpower, serves to allow you to adopt the 'yes' in your daily life.

Reflections

With my daughter and her family all piling in with us last October, teamwork has been essential, and I am pleased to say that despite the mess, and my daughter breaking her leg when she had just arrived, everyone has worked well together! I have played and worked in some wonderful teams: that warm feeling of belonging to something way bigger than you, with others by your side. I have always preferred to be part of a team; for me flying solo is often unpredictable! 'No one can whistle a symphony, it takes a whole orchestra.'

'A group becomes a team when each member is sure enough of themselves and their contribution to praise the skills of others.' There has to be trust and loyalty and individual commitment to a group effort—that is what makes a team work, a company work, a society work, a civilisation work'. When we all help one another, everybody wins. There is always a challenge working with others; you may have the greatest bunch of individual stars in the world but none of us are as smart individually as all of us, pulling together. 'Something incredible happens when teamwork happens the way it is supposed to happen. Things change when everyone on the team is equally invested in the overall purpose and good.' 'Coming together is a beginning, staying together is progress, and working together is success!'

'It is the long history of human and animal kind that those who learned to collaborate and improvise most effectively have prevailed.' (Darwin) Perhaps I should send these reflections to Parliament! 'Alone we can do so little, together we can do so much.'

Janis Davenport

An Apt Poem!

VIRUS by Janet Denny

Lab stained and magnified I glow
Crimson shelled iridescent blue,
Emerald studded candy floss,
Golden helix, coral flower,
Silver spined spaceship.
I am nature's smallest work of art.

Old as life, I have shaped it;
A chemical chain, leaping from a leaf
I can land in the frog,
Thank for hospitality then,
Borrowing birds' wings,
Arrive invisibly in the pig
To prepare my assault on man.

The spin doctor of evolution
I inhabit my hosts
The Houdini of cells—
You can't catch me—I can mutate.
At any cost I will replicate.
Beware, mankind, I can decimate!

Janet wrote this about 10 years ago, after watching a TV programme about viruses. She was entranced by their beautiful shapes and colours. The colours are artificial, since viruses are too small to have 'colour' as such.
